Meetinghouse Emerson Avenue and Fifteenth East

SOCIAL NOTES

Sister Virginia Budd returned last week from a two years' mission in the Hawaiian Islands. Her brother Douglas, who is also laboring in that field will remain another year. The people of Wasatch extend a hearty welcome to Sister Virginia.

Friday evening, October 20, a home-coming was extended to Sister Budd and Bro. Chase, a splendid program was given, followed by a dance.

The sixth annual banquet was held in Wasatch Ward, June 14, 1922. A record crowd was in attendance. An excellent repast was served by the Relief Society sisters, assisted by the young ladies. Colored pendulums swinging from the corners of the ceiling to each of the five tables, produced a delightful holiday effect. Bro. Nicholas G. Morgan acted as toastmaster of the occasion. President Frank Y. Taylor and Bishop M. O. Ashton.

responded to toasts of Wasatch. This banquet enjoyed by all, proved to be the most enjoyable of banquets in the history of Wasatch.

Crack'er Harold

Pink lemonade, peanuts, animals, horse races and Harold Barnes, all this for twenty-five cents at the M. I. A. circus last December. Harold Barnes, as P. P. Barnum the ring master, and Bob Gordon as Mr. Gazvokum were well worth a quarter, not to mention Ern Brazier as an Arab steed, Hersch Garff and Bart Parkinson as elephants, while a number of the junior boys returned to their original state as tree climbers. It takes a M. I. A. circus to bring out some characteristics of Wasatchers. Here's to another circus.

Martha

Within the last year the Wasatch Ward Opera Company has produced its second light opera. The phenomenal success of the opera "Priscilla" was followed by the opera, "Martha." The performance of this production cannot be too highly commended. Mildred Bird and Howard Frazee carried the leading roles, ably assisted by Norma Storrs Pratt and Mr. Russell. Much credit may be given to James Morgan and Irma Felt Bitner, who conducted the production.

JOLTS

If Trouble hands his jolts to you,
Don't quit—be “game.”
There is no easy road
To Wealth, or Fame.

Get up smiling, and then say,
When you're knocked flat:
“Old trouble scored again, but I Expected that.”

Laugh! that beats groaning,
And yelling: “Enough!”
Just shake your fist at Trouble—
That's “the stuff!”

Go-at-it-iveness is the first requisite for success.
Stick-to-it-iveness is the second.
These two qualities will make Wasatch Ward carnival a huge success.

DEAR WASATCH FOLKS:

The excitement of the horse race becomes most intense just as the horses turn the curve and start down the home stretch.

When one observes that the drivers are all working for the last moment advantage and the horses seem to sense the responsibility of the occasion and put forth every ounce of power to forge ahead, that is the moment that brings the audience to its feet.

Just to call your attention to the fact that Wasatch is on that last lap, putting forth every ounce of strength to go under the tape and take her place among the winners and it now rests with the individual member to say just how grand that feeling will be on the night of October 27th, when the committee announces the outcome of our race with debt.

We know it can be done and feel sure every member has already desired to win for Wasatch.

EDITORIAL

THEY DEPEND UPON ME,
I WILL BE THERE.

Alighting from the car at Emerson avenue and Fifteenth East, some five years ago, we noticed a heavy, dark clouded sky, a very slight breeze and in fact a few snow flakes were falling through the air. We walked very rapidly and in a short time came to a small brown bungalow, into which people were quickly passing through a small, low door, one very tall men being forced to stoop as he passed in.

Pausing a moment on the doorstep, we passed in with the crowds, and discovered we were in the Wasatch Ward meeting house. Inside this small room, the people were cleverly vying with each other, in finding a place near to the small stove and far from the large cracks.

Close by stood the framework of a real church, the nucleus of a beautiful building, but overclouding this structure was the shadow of thirty thousand dollars. The people on the hill looked the problem squarely in the face, chose as their motto, "We Can, We Will," and the foundation was laid.

For five years the cloud has grown steadily smaller, until today there is just a small, white cloud, which slightly dims the sun. The Wasatch Zephyrs have almost blown that away, and on October 25, 26 and 27, the Zephyr will become a gale and the small white cloud will fade away leaving a clear sky.

Men and women of Wasatch, take up the torch, help drive the last cloud from sight. The time has come when our motto shall go from house to house and every voice shall proclaim: "They depend upon me, I will be there."

From the cloud in the sky comes this plea: "God give us men. The time demands strong minds, great hearts, true faith and willing hands."

WASATCH MOTHERS! Attention!

The success of the baby show depends on you. Bring your baby Friday night—Let's see how he or she lines up according to the eyes of those most competent judges.—Well you know.

SYNOPSIS

(The stage represents a work shop and two ante rooms)

Thomas Edwardson, a rising young inventor, has invented some wonderful attachments for use on the telephone and radio but the invention has not yet been made public. At the rise of the curtain he is seen in his laboratory and is called to the phone by Mrs. Edwardson who tells him that one of their dear friends has written her saying that she is sending her daughter to visit with them, the purpose being to break up a love affair with a fellow that her parents object to. The said lover learns of the plan to separate him from his fair maid and goes to the house of the inventor disguised as a newspaper reporter seeking news of the wonderful invention, but the inventor recognizes him as an old college chum and suggests to him that they play a Capital Joke on their lady loves, which turns out to be quite a tragic affair to the brilliant young inventor but gives the lovers their chance to seal away to a near by minister and get married. They soon return and release the would be joker and his wife from a most laughable and embarrassing situation.

Saturday Night

Coronation of Queen and Grand Ball FRIDAY NIGHT

Rose Six Piece Orchestra will furnish the music.

Who shall it be?

It's off—The bars have been pushed to one side and the Queen contest is sliding down the ways into the peaceful sea of SUCCESS. Running for Queen are some of the most attractive witty, beautiful or as we might say, thoroughly competent candidates that can be produced in the sunny hilltops of the Rocky Mountains. At 1c a vote who can resist voting for such lovable creatures. It matters not who wins the contest and who on the concluding night of the contest is crowned queen; but the big principal is SUCCESS. We want to go over the top and the only way that we can hope to is with your earnest help. You can do it. Make up your mind that the lady you have a desire to be queen will be queen and then open your pockets and put her there. You will delight in seeing your favorite girl crowned queen of the carnival on the last night and the four runners up as her maids. When success is ours we want to hear that still small voice say to us, "Well done thou good and faithful servant." The beauty of it all is this. We crown the queen, throw confetti and serpentine, dance to music gay and strong, and with the wondrous happy throng, give our answer to We Can—We Will. We Could and Have Done.

Look! Listen!

Don't forget the ever constant dispensers of warmth, cheer and comfort. The Wasatch Ward Relief Society at whose booth you will find hand made lace trimmed pillow cases, beautiful house dresses, aprons of many varieties, negligees, handkerchiefs, clothes pin bags, ironing board covers, dress protectors, bloomers, children's undershirts. A line of hand-made sweaters in most artistic color combinations. Last but not least, quilts filled with the finest wool money can buy. A prize in every package at prices to suit you. Come early to avoid the rush while the assortment is complete.

THE POINT WE MAKE

about our milk and cream is that they are rich, pure and wholesome. Bottled by sanitary methods, there is absolute freedom from all danger of contagion or contamination. Milk is at once most wholesome and most dangerous. Be sure of the wholesomeness by getting your supply here.

Toasts

To Us and to You—May we have a head to earn and hearts to spend.

May your purses always be heavy and your hearts light.

The Nimble Penny—May it soon grow into a dime and then swell into a dollar.

To a Sovereign—Not the kind that sits on a throne, but the one that lies in your pocket.

May we never feel want nor want feeling.

Our Harvest Carnival—May the sunshine of plenty dispel the clouds of debt.

May we court and win all the Daughters of Fortune except the eldest—Miss Fortune.

May Avarice lose his purse and Benevolence find it.

Friends—May we be richer in their love than in wealth, and yet may money be plenty.

Our Noble Selves—Why not toast ourselves and praise ourselves since we have the best means of knowing all the good in ourselves. Watch Wasatch Work.

To the Man We Love—He who thinks most good and speaks least ill of his neighbors, Our Bishop.

Doctor Claude Cannon—May your shadow never grow less.

Women: The fairest work of the great Author; the edition is large, the volumes come bound in large and small copies and no man should be without a copy.

Marriage: The happy state which resembles a pair of shears; so joined that they cannot be separated; often moving in opposite directions, yet always punishing any one who comes between them.

Home: The place where our stomachs get three good meals daily and our hearts a thousand.

Home: The place where the great are sometimes small, and the small often great.

Home: The place where you are treated best and grumble most.

The Wasatch Ward sure has a loyal lot of friends among the merchants. The people of the ward ought to see that their friendship is paid in kind.

Cafeteria

Make up a family party and have a real swell dinner at less than it cost to prepare a meal at home.

"LEST WE FORGET":

"That which may at first bore, finally fascinates." Though you may be bored with carnival letters, announcements, etc., etc., the fact remains that the carnival itself will FASCINATE.

"Success is at hand—because you have a living faith in yourself and in us."

By that faith, coupled with good works, expressed in dollars and cents in the purchase of values at the carnival will bring success.

"You cannot be kept down unless you are down-hearted." There is absolutely no evidence of down-heartedness among the people of Wasatch, but on every hand that smile that does not come off and the outcome of the carnival will justify the smile.

Hello Wasatch—

Let us gather up the dollars,
Lying all around our ward;
Let us give our dimes and pennies
Cast in all we can afford,
Let us find our sweetest comfort
In the notes we pay today,
With a patient hand removing
All the debts along our way.

And then with dignity and satisfaction we may enter our church knowing we own it and have a clear title.

That meeting house is yours, it is mine and to the extent that we have been permitted to contribute to its erection and maintenance we feel a pride of ownership which no man can question our right to possess.

How sweet is the rest that comes to the human that has paid his last installment on the home that shelters him from the weather and how enjoyable will be the rest from our daily tasks when we assemble on the Sabbath Day under the roof of our ward home to which we possess a clear title.

Just one more hill ahead, shift into low, now into intermediate, then into high and with a speed that's grand let us enter the ranks of "The Paid-in-Full Folks."

With confidence,
OUT O' DEBT 'O.

Judge.....

Don't forget this concerning the carnival—Anticipation may be very agreeable, but participation is more practical.

Here's a health to Detail, Retail and Cur-tail—indeed to all the tails but tell-tales.

May we never crack a joke or break a reputation.

ASHTON IMPROVEMENT COMPANY

Was. 2194 75 West South Temple

"Love, Honor and Obey"

Wasatch Ward Sunday School, noted for its "Entertainments Unique," outdid all former stunts in the "Mock Wedding." In the midst of a successful dance, all eyes were drawn toward the stage, for it had been announced that Wasatch's most famous couple would be married that evening.

A more beautiful wedding party will never be seen. Formal wedding clothes were the mode. The bride, beautiful in her veil and orange blossoms, was attended by seven bridesmaids, she was given away by her father. Three little flower girls completed the picture. At the end of the ceremony a small stool was given to the groom to stand on, in order that he might bestow the ceremonial kiss upon the bride. Bro. I. A. Smoot portrayed the bride, Bro. Charles Bird the groom, Bro. A. H. Chase the minister, and Bro. R. Cheshire the father. Assisted by the prettiest girls in Wasatch, the picture was complete.

Miscellaneous

The thing that goes the farthest toward making life worth while—

That costs the least and does the most, is just a pleasant smile.

The smile that bubbles from a heart that loves its fellow-men

Will drive away the cloud of gloom and coax the sun again.

It's full of wealth and gladness too, with manly kindness blent,

Its worth a million dollars, and doesn't cost a cent.

Judge not—the vilest criminal may rightfully demand a chance to prove his innocence by jury of his land—Judge not.

I RESOLVE—

To keep my health,

To do my work,

To live.

To see to it I grow and gain and give;

Robbed, starved, defeated, fallen, wide astray on, with what strength I have—Back to the way.

OUT O'DEBT 'O.
