

Wasatch Hollow Community Council

Interview Summary and Index – 002

Interviewee: Julie Johnson Monson

Interviewer: Warren Cook

Date: August 14, 2015

Location: Salt Lake City, UT

Summary

Julie Johnson Monson talks about how great a place Wasatch Hollow was for growing up and mentions a number of people and families in the neighborhood.

Note: This is a continuation of Interview 001 which was interrupted by a phone call.

Index

Time	Brief description
00:00:00	Growing up in Wasatch Hollow. A great place. Community leaders. Bowers and Woods demonstrated generosity and tolerance at their businesses. Remembers some world events. Played flashlight tag in The Gully even in high school.
00:01:53	People in the neighborhood. Corbetts (shoemaker from Greece), Dave McMurdy (tire store owner), Wellings (dentist), Dr. Snow (pediatrician), Homer Warner on Penn Street (medical computing pioneer), and Eyrings. Encouraged to go college by women leaders [at church], Kay Warner. Dunfords and Warners had big impact.
00:04:12	Closing thoughts. [Living in Wasatch Hollow] was like America was in a different place than today. Patriotism. Driver's education done on neighborhood streets.
00:05:56	End time